1. VFW Remembers President Bush: “President George H.W. Bush was highly admired within the veteran community and beyond,” said VFW National Commander B.J. Lawrence. “He served as a Navy fighter pilot in the World War II Pacific Theater, as a U.S. congressman, U.S. ambassador, as CIA director, then vice president to President Ronald Reagan for eight years before being elected president, where he would win a resounding war against Iraq and end the Cold War. Our 41st president was also the last of eight presidents to earn the title of VFW member,” he said. President Bush was a Life member of the VFW Department of Texas. “On behalf of the entire 1.6 million-member VFW family, our deepest condolences go out to the entire Bush family, and we thank them for their strength and support that enabled him to continue serving our great nation for so long. Bravo Zulu.”

2. Pearl Harbor Day 2018: VFW National Commander B.J. Lawrence and VFW Auxiliary National President Sandi Kriebel joined hundreds of veterans, active-duty military, their families and supporters at the Pearl Harbor Visitors Center to commemorate the 77th anniversary of the attack. During the ceremony, they presented a VFW wreath in memory of the 2,403 military service members and civilians who were killed during the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941, and took a moment to reflect on this year’s commemorative theme, “Forging the Future,” which pays tribute to President Roosevelt’s famous 1943 “Unconquerable Spirit” speech. 3. VFW Leadership Visits DPAA: On Tuesday, VFW National Commander B.J. Lawrence and VFW Auxiliary National President Sandi Kriebel attended a briefing hosted by the Defense POW/MIA Accounting Agency (DPAA) at Joint Base Pearl Harbor-Hickam in Hawaii. The briefing included updates from DPAA Director Kelly McKeague and Deputy Director Rear Adm. Jon Kreitz regarding ongoing remains repatriation missions in Southeast Asia, as well as information about upcoming investigative and recovery operations in 2019. The VFW delegation also toured the DPAA operational headquarters and identification laboratory, where they had the opportunity to view several sets of remains that were repatriated back to the U.S. from North Korea on Aug. 1. Learn more about the DPAA.

4. VFW Attends Deputy Secretary of Defense Roundtable: On Monday, the VFW and other veterans and military organizations met with senior DOD leadership to discuss the department’s priorities and how to improve benefits and care for our nation’s service members and their families. Items discussed included the need for a strong DOD budget to implement the National Security Strategy; success and expansion of the Military Health System GENESIS electronic health care record; open enrollment for TRICARE Prime and Select which ends Dec. 10; open enrollment for retirees who would like to transition from the TRICARE Retiree Dental Program to the Federal Employee Dental and Vision Program; informing service members of the need to elect whether or not to opt into the Blended Retirement System by Jan. 1, 2019; and how to reduce the number of service members who die by suicide.

5. VA to Provide Telehealth at VFW Posts: During the Anywhere to Anywhere Telehealth Summit, VA announced Project ATLAS, which is a partnership between VA, the VFW, Philips, and the American Legion to provide VA telehealth at VFW and Legion posts in rural areas. The first Project ATLAS location, VFW Post 6786 in Eureka, Montana, is set to begin offering VA mental health care to veterans soon. The VFW is proud to partner with VA, the Legion and Philips to expand access to care for veterans. Learn more about VA’s telehealth ”Anywhere to Anywhere” initiative.

6. Coast Guard Needs More Icebreakers: The VFW was at the National Press Club yesterday to hear Coast Guard Commandant Adm. Karl Schultz say that if the United States wants to protect its national security interests in the Arctic, it needs to fund more ships for the U.S. Coast Guard, especially icebreakers. Schultz said the rise of Russian and Chinese influence in the region is troubling, given the rich natural resources like natural gas, oil, minerals and fish, as well as the two countries' accelerated building of icebreakers. China is estimated to have seven icebreakers in commission or under construction. Russia is estimated to have more than 40 in service or under construction. Canada, which is second only to Russia in landmass inside the Arctic Circle, has 17. A Department of Homeland Security analysis in 2013 concluded that the Coast Guard needs six icebreakers — three heavy and three medium ships. The U.S. Coast Guard today has only two icebreakers — one heavy and one medium. Coast Guard funding is currently in a part of the fiscal 2019 budget that has yet to be finalized. Read more here.

7. Another For-profit School Closes Suddenly: This week, a major for-profit college system announced it will be closing its doors at the end of the current semester. The Birmingham, Alabama-based Education Corp. of America said it was closing schools operating as Virginia College, Brightwood College, Brightwood Career Institute, Ecotech Institute, and Golf Academy of America in more than 70 locations in 21 states. This move surprised students attending these schools and left their futures unknown. There are approximately 4,000 GI Bill students who could be affected by these closures and the VFW is working with VA in order to make sure these students are taken care of as soon as possible. If you are a student attending one of these schools and have questions or need help, please reach out to the VFW’s education assistance program at 1studentveteran@vfw.org.
